

MANDAPS

This is the focal point of Indian weddings, and needs to be given due importance when planning the décor. Dome-shaped mandaps can look spectacular, especially when surrounded by lush floral arrangements. Yards of pastel-hued fabric draped on the pillars will complete the look perfectly. For a more ornate look, go for a flower chandelier with ambient lighting. And if you're the minimalist bride, then ditch the fabric and just go with classic white flowers on the mandap pillars and the dome.

1. Pink and white mandap setting by Enchanted Florist Inc. shot by Adriana Photography.
2. Gazebo setting by The Hidden Garden shot by Lin & Jera Photography.
3. Indoor opulence by Design House Decor shot by Nadia D. Photography.

